Attorney Docket No. 40062.0269US01

FOR DISCUSSION PURPOSE ONLY. NOT TO BE ENTERED ON RECORD

1. (Currently Amended) One or more processor-accessible storage media comprising processor-executable instructions that, when executed, direct a device to perform file compilation actions comprising:

accepting a plurality of files, each file of the plurality of files corresponding to a respective file type and including source code, wherein at least two files have different file types; instantiating an instance of a build provider associated with each of the plurality of files; accessing a configuration file including a data structure build provider registration – mapping data structure that maps respective file types of the plurality of files file types to a respective build provider providers of a plurality of build providers, wherein a new build provider is registered by updating the build provider registration – mapping data structure data structure of the configuration file to include a new entry that maps a new file type to the new build provider; associating a build provider with each file of the plurality of files in accordance with the corresponding respective file type; providing each respective build provider a path to its associated file by calling a respective file path interface; requesting from each respective build provider the build provider's usable language; ascertaining the source code of each file of the plurality of files via the associated build provider; and ascertaining one or more resources of each file of the plurality of files via the associated build provider; and launching a compiler to compile compiling the ascertained source code and the one or more resources of each file of the plurality of files into an assembly; wherein a build provider manager accesses the build provider registration – mapping data structure, instantiates the plurality of build providers needed to accomplish the file compilation actions based on the registration – mapping data structure, and manages and controls the plurality of build providers to facilitate the file compilation actions.
